Attempted Murder.

On last Saturday night, about 10 o'clock as Mr. John Dennis, who resides at Hilton and has charge of the drawer in the iron railroad bridge on the Northeast Cape Fear river, was returning from arranging the drawer for a train near due, he saw a colored man by the name of John Waddell doing there, and receiving no reply, and being unarmed, he started for the house. He had just reached the door when a gun was fired behind him and the ball went crashing through the steamer Waccamaw reached here on next term of Superior Court.

Something Wrong Somewhere. A correspondent in Caswell township writes to complain of the continued delay in receiving the JOURNAL. He says that it is never received there until it is a week old, but intimates, very plainly, that everyone believes the fault to be in the mails. This, we know, is the reason why the paper is delayed. It is, or rather it should be, put off at Rocky Point, but, as that Postoffice is near the city, it may be that the agent fails to get the mails assorted by the time that the train passes that point and therefore takes Barden and a colored man by the name of Maner, representing Mr. Barden as having "accused Maner of setting fire to the woods, from which a difficulty sprang up, when the negro shot at Mr. Barden, who returned the fire with a fatal result." You mistake in representing Mr. Barden as having accused Maner of any offence whatever and therefrom becoming involved in a personal difficulty with him.
